

RESOLUTION TO REQUIRE Stronger American Constitution Mastery
in Publicly Funded Higher Education Institutions

Category: Education:

Subcategory: Higher Education

WHEREAS: American publicly funded universities should teach real mastery of the United States Constitution. All core constitution requirements should require students to purchase a copy of the United States Constitution and be tested on Bill of Rights and constitutional amendments.

WHEREAS: Publicly Funded Higher Education Institutions allow students to “test out” of current constitution requirements providing them with poor to little understanding of the United States Constitution.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED THAT: We call for the termination of “test out” and “AP” credit options for required core United States constitution classes. Classes teaching the American Constitution will teach the mastery version of the class without criticism, require students purchase a copy of the United States Constitution, and to be tested on Bill of Rights and amendments.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED THAT: All Texas graduates from publicly funded universities will graduate with a United States Constitution book and proper United States Constitution education.
